Features profiles of young people who are making a difference to the world today – representing the current mood for activism, especially around environmental issues and climate change.

Each profile ends with a 'Be awesome like...' section giving practical, everyday examples of how readers can speak up against injustice.

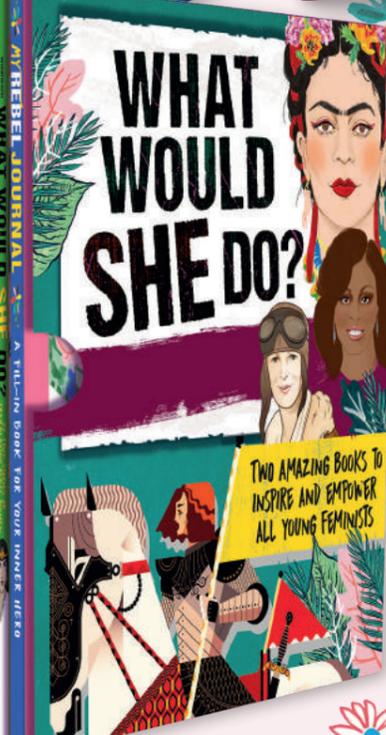

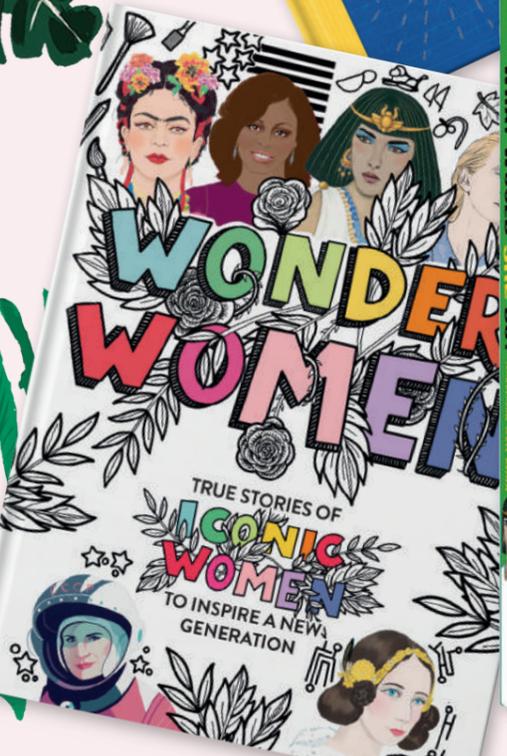

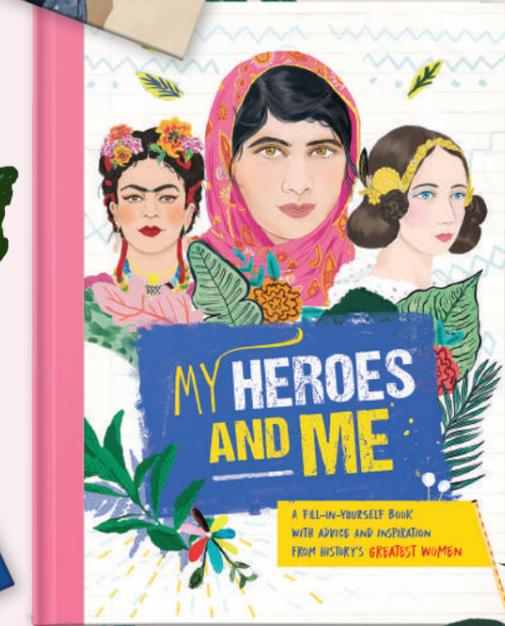

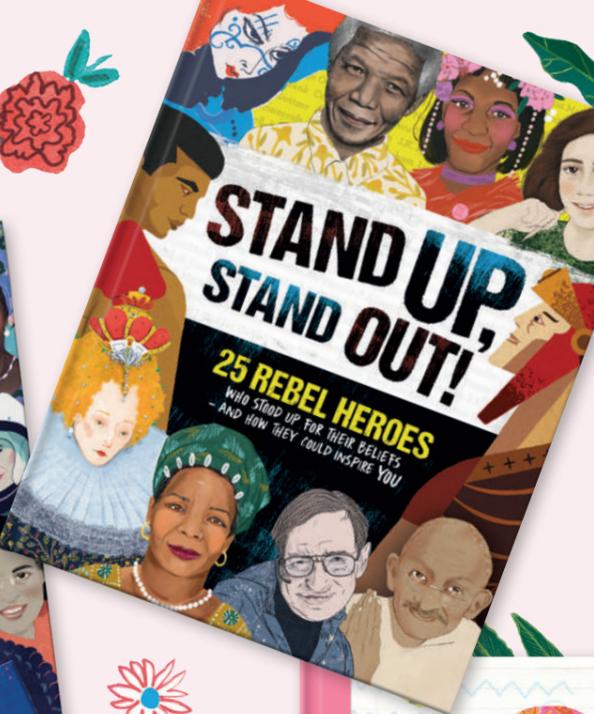

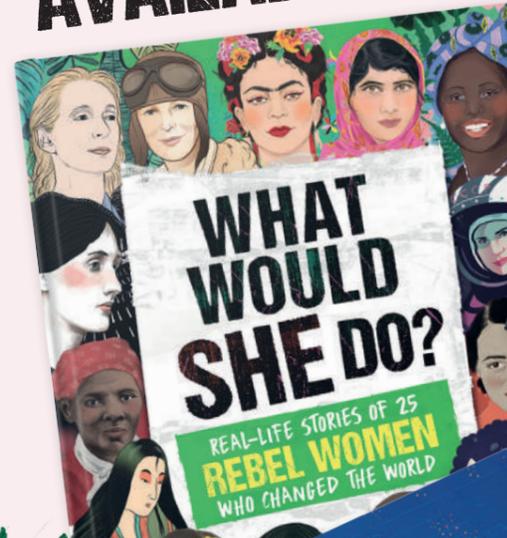

Portraits are created by a selection of hand-picked contemporary illustrators.

Meet 25 young people who changed, or are changing, the world! Learn about some of the most gifted and brave youngsters on the planet who all made a difference while they were young. From musical geniuses to environmental activists, Young, Fearless, Awesome is packed with inspiring tales of human passion and courage. It features modern-day activists such as Greta Thunberg, Felix Finkbeiner and Emma González, plus a selection of inspirational heroes from recent history, such as Anne Frank and Claudette Colvin. These inspirational youths stood up for what they believed in, spoke out against injustice, and overcame huge obstacles to make a change. Each profile concludes with a 'Be Awesome Like...' section in which the profile is linked to everyday scenarios readers might encounter, and suggests ways for them to show bravery or peacefully protest against injustice in their daily lives.

RAF: THE COMPLETE HISTORY

THE OFFICIAL STORY

Welbeck	224pp, HB
978-1-78739-423-0	200 images
11 June 2020	25,000 words
280 x 216 mm	£25.00

2020 marks the 80th anniversary of the Battle of Britain and 2018 was the 100th anniversary of the founding of the RAF.

Officially endorsed by the RAF with unique access to their archives.

15 September 2020 is Battle of Britain Day, when the 80th anniversary of the battle will be commemorated, with guaranteed national coverage by the BBC and print media.

Authoritative text by world-renowned historian James Holland, whose books have sold over 416,000 copies.

RAF: The Complete History is the most up-to-date official history of the Royal Air Force - the oldest air force in the world. From its genesis in the horrors of the First World War when pilots were open to the elements in craft made of little more than wood and fabric, to the iconic air battles of the Second World War, through to the lifesaving missions carried out in today's trouble zones, this book looks at the men, women and aircraft that are at the heart of this great service.

With unique access to the RAF's historic archives, best-selling historian James Holland uses photographs and documents to bring the story of the people, planes and missions to life as never before.

James Holland is an historian, writer and broadcaster. The author of a number of best-selling histories including Battle of Britain and Normandy '44. He has presented – and written – a large number of television programmes and series for the BBC, Channel 4, National Geographic, History and Discovery. He is co-founder of the Chalke Valley History Festival and co-founder of WarGen.org, an online Second World War resource site, and presents the Chalke Valley History Hit podcast. 978-0-23300-612-3	150 images
2 April 2020	25,000 words
250 x 216 mm	£20.00

Published to coincide with the 75th anniversary of VE and VJ Day.

A visually stunning combination of Google Earth images showing the modern-day locations of crucial battles and strategic locations alongside specially commissioned maps showing troop movements, tactics and topography.

Contains approximately 60 maps spanning the entirety of the war from 1939 to 1945 and featuring all the key theatres.

Features a concise narrative setting each battle in context.

A never-before-seen combination of annotated satellite images and expertly drawn battle maps. It aims to satisfy both the military history buff and those seeking a visually stunning history gift book, bringing the war vividly and dramatically to life by showing the actual landscapes where battles took place along with specially commissioned annotations depicting remarkable events, troop movements, heroic last stands, or even where individual soldiers stood or fell.

Each of the 25 chapters features an enhanced Google Earth image, along with specially commissioned battle maps showing every facet of the conflict in exceptional detail.

Here you will find all the key milestones of World War II: the invasion of France, Germany's first blitzkrieg offensives, the Battle of Alamein, Monte Cassino, Arnhem, the invasion of Sicily, the Battle of the Bulge, Iwo Jima, D-Day and the final push to Berlin, along with a host of other strategic and battle maps from every geographical location.

Written by a highly decorated soldier and leading military history expert, this is an innovative, richly detailed and visually stunning overview of history's most destructive conflict.

Major General Julian Thompson CB OBE served in the Royal Marines for 34 years and commanded the Royal Marine Commandos and the two battalions of the Parachute Regiment during the Falklands War. Since retiring he has been a visiting professor at King's College, London. His books include The 1916 Experience (2006), The Victory in Europe Experience (2005), The Second World War in 100 Objects (2012) and 1918: How the First World War was Won (2018).

THE BATTLE OF BRITAIN

THE TACTICS | THE PLANES | "THE FEW"

2020 marks the 80th anniversary of the Battle of Britain (10 July - 31 October 1940). This will be marked with national and international television news and documentary coverage, and Battle of Britain Memorial Flight air shows across the UK.

Officially endorsed by the Royal Air Force with unique access to their archives.

Authoritative text by world-renowned air and Second World War historian Richard Overy.

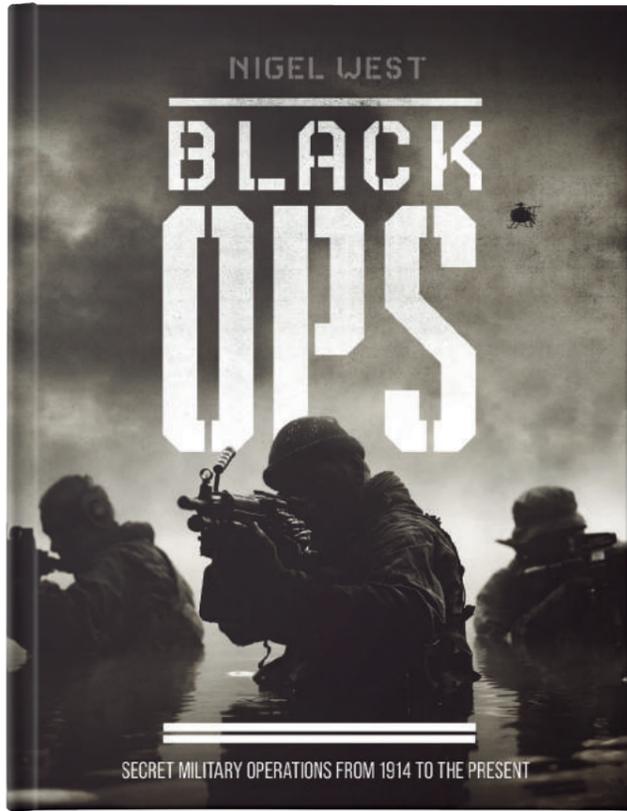

On 18 June 1940 Churchill declared in the House of Commons – "The Battle of France is over... the Battle for Britain is about to begin". With the fall of France, Great Britain was Hitler's last remaining stepping-stone to European domination. In July, Hitler told his commanders to prepare for the invasion of England. To do this they would have to destroy the RAF - Britain's last line of defence. As such the Battle of Britain was without doubt one of, if not the, most important victories in British history.

The Battle of Britain is the story of that battle: the machines which took to the air; the tactics employed by each side; gripping accounts of the action; the people who took part from the Commanders, to the pilots, to ground crew and plotters. Fascinating facsimile documents brings this great battle to life as never before.

Richard Overy, Professor of History, University of Exeter, is a world-renowned historian and an expert on the history of the Second World War, air warfare and the Hitler and Stalin dictatorships. He has won five prizes for his published work, including in 2005 the Wolfson prize for History. He is the author of Welbeck's landmark Second World War Experience four part series in association with the Imperial War Museum and The Battle of Britain Experience, in association with the RAF.

BLACK OPS

SECRET MILITARY OPERATIONS FROM 1914 TO THE PRESENT

Welbeck 208pp, HB
 978-0-23300-624-6 150 images
 14 May 2020 40,000 words
 237 x 185 mm £20.00

Huge interest in the subject area. The Call of Duty: Black Ops series of games have sold over 100m copies and First Man In: Leading from the Front written by Ant Middleton is a Number 1 Sunday Times bestseller.

Contains meticulously researched stories that are true-life thrillers, such as the operation carried out by four black ops squadrons to assassinate Osama bin Laden in 2011.

Written by a leading authority on military intelligence and covert ops.

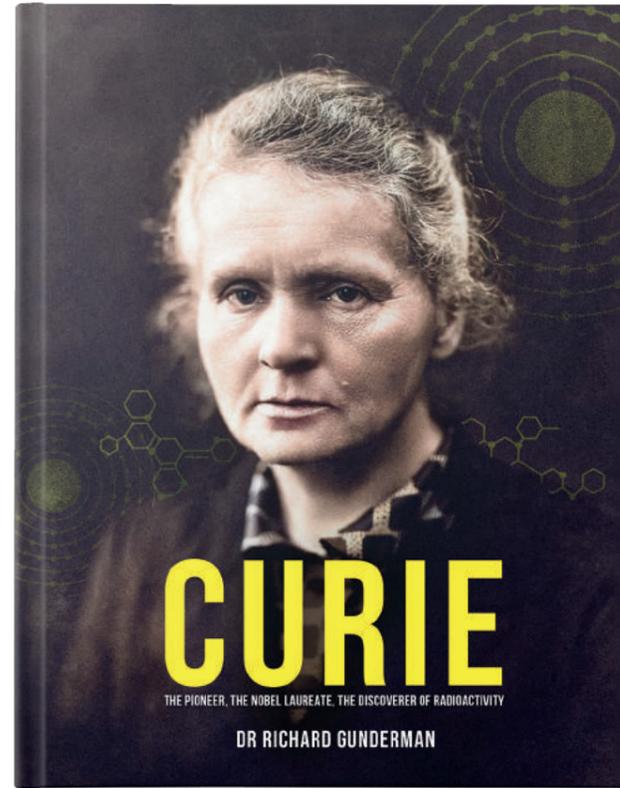

A thrilling compendium of undercover warfare from around the world. Meet the most hardened soldiers and operatives facing extraordinary dangers deep behind enemy lines.

The book features many amazing stories from World War II, such as the assassination of Holocaust architect Reinhard Heydrich by Britain's Special Operations Executive, which in 1940 received its mission from Churchill to "set Europe ablaze" in the battle against Nazi tyranny. Also told are the stories of Stalin's favourite spy; the little-known account of how Japanese military codes were cracked; and Operation Mincemeat, which led to the invasion of Sicily.

Written by a leading military intelligence expert, Black Ops ranges across a century of remarkable clandestine operations. Starting with Hans Carl Lody, the first German spy during World War I, we also have the plot to assassinate Lenin; the origins of strategic deception; and the Cold War defection of Oleg Gordievsky from the Soviet Union. The book is brought right up to date with the plot to assassinate Osama bin Laden by Navy SEALs in 2011, and the attempted assassination of the Skripals in the UK in 2018, leading to fears that the world is on the brink of a new Cold War.

A compelling anthology of spies, soldiers, mercenaries and assassins, Black Ops tells the secret history of 20th and 21st-century warfare.

Nigel West is an author specialising in security, intelligence, secret service and espionage issues. He is the European Editor of the World Intelligence Review, published in Washington DC, and the editorial director of The St Ermin's Press. In 1989 he was voted "The Experts' Expert" by the Observer in London. He writes regularly for SpearsWealth Management Survey and works with The Centre for Counterintelligence and Security Studies.

MARIE CURIE

THE PIONEER, THE NOBEL LAUREATE, THE DISCOVERER OF RADIOACTIVITY

Marie Curie is one of the most significant scientists of all time. She was the first woman to win the Nobel Prize and the first person to win two Nobel Prizes.

A pioneer of women's empowerment, her story has never been more topical or inspiring.

Radioactive, a biographical film exploring Marie Curie's life starring Rosamund Pike is set to be released in 2020.

Marie Curie coined the term "radioactivity," and it is to her and her husband, Pierre Curie, that we owe much of our current understanding of the very fabric of reality.

Born in Warsaw, Marie was the fifth and youngest child of teachers. Her father taught mathematics and science, for which she showed an early affinity, and she later went to study in Paris, where she met Pierre. The work they did together revolutionized modern science. As well as discovering the atomic rather than chemical nature of radioactivity, the Curies isolated two new elements: polonium and radium.

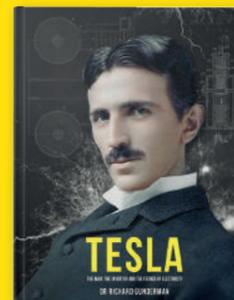

This biography does full justice to the scientific and human aspects of Marie's life, detailing her tumultuous personal history at a time of social upheaval, and her struggle to gain recognition in an era when female scientists were almost unknown.

Marie Curie died in 1934, succumbing to aplastic anaemia that may have stemmed from her scientific investigations. Her work not only contributed to our understanding of the structure of the atom – and therefore the structure of the physical world itself – but also laid the foundations for modern medical innovations such as radiotherapy. Her example continues to inspire millions of people across the world.

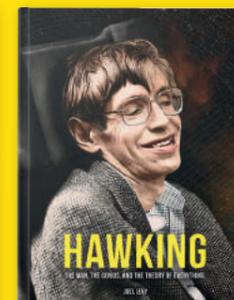

Dr Richard Gunderman is the John A. Campbell Professor of Radiology at Indiana University, US. He is the author of ten books, including the best-selling Tesla: The Man, the Inventor, and the Age of Electricity.

The Royal Horticultural Society (RHS) have 4 gardens across the UK and over 200 partner gardens, welcoming more than 1.2 million visitors a year.

The Royal Horticultural Society's The Rose tells the story of the world's favourite flower through 40 of the most popular and interesting species and hybrids. Arranged chronologically, The Rose brings to life the arrival of each flower in European gardens, detailing the history of the layout of rose gardens and the role that roses play in the "language of flowers".

From the first recorded reference to a rose over 7,000 years ago, these extraordinary flowers have captivated botanists, artists, poets, perfumers and gardeners. A symbol of love and patriotism, a scent and flavour synonymous with the East, and the jewel in the crown of ornamental gardens, roses in all their forms bear a special meaning that spans centuries and crosses oceans.

Extraordinary botanical illustrations and extracts from classic texts held in the Royal Horticultural Society's world-famous Lindley Library, such as Redouté's Les Roses, Henry Andrew's Roses, Mary Lawrence's Selection of Roses and Victor Paquet's Choix des Plus Belles Roses, complete this authoritative celebration.

Dr Brent Elliott is Historian at the Royal Horticultural Society and has worked there for almost 40 years. He is the author of Victorian Gardens (1986), Treasures of the Royal Horticultural Society (1994), Flora: an Illustrated History of The Garden Flower.

The book is written by the world's number one survivalist James Wesley Rawles, the founder of the Survival Blog. Previous books by Rawles have sold millions of copies around the world, and the Survival Blog was viewed 8.9 million times in 2017.

Preparedness for the end of the world is a growing concern; an estimated 4 million Americans now classify themselves as survivalists or preppers, and there are millions more around the world.

The Ultimate Prepper's Survival Guide explores every facet of the vital subject of surviving the end of the world and breakdown of society. It includes tips on the mental and emotional resilience required to help you not just cope but prosper in the new world, as well as advice on basic survival skills such as food-gathering, shelter-building, self-defence and self-sufficiency. With practical easy-to-follow instructions on the preparations you can make today, The Ultimate Prepper's Survival Guide is of vital importance to anyone worried about the state of the world today. And remember, knowledge is power.

A magnificent Olympic experience, published in association with the International Olympic Committee.

The Olympic Games is celebrated through 350 colour photographs and artworks, including portraits, action shots and images of memorabilia from every Olympic Summer Games since 1896.

Today, the Olympic Summer Games is the world's biggest sporting event, attracting an audience counted in billions across the globe.

Published in the build-up for the Games of the XXXII Olympiad Tokyo 2020. Tokyo, which first welcomed the world in 1964, is the first city in Asia to host the Olympic Summer Games twice.

The Olympic Summer Games, held every four years, is renowned for creating instant heroes, moments of triumph and glory, many in search of medals, gold, silver and bronze in colour, all there in the spirit of taking part.

Published in association with the International Olympic Committee, Faster, Higher, Stronger: The Story of the Olympic Games brings to life, through more than 350 photographs, the glorious history of the Olympic Summer Games. Illustrating the values that unite the world through sport every four years, beginning in 776 BC in ancient Greece, through to its revival in 1896 and the 27 subsequent editions, this exceptional volume, revised, updated and in an exciting new format, charts the event's absorbing and star-studded history and a wealth of world sporting achievement.

A book of dreams, the International Olympic Committee has provided items of rare historical documents from their exclusive archive to be photographed, allowing readers to get closer to the world's greatest sporting spectacle than ever before.

Written with the full co-operation of the International Olympic Committee.

THE LITTLE BOOK OF ENGLAND

This book contains more than 170 quotes by players, coaches, journalists, commentators and fans of England's football team, all keen to have their say.

Filled with quotes from all angles of the national football team broken down into separate chapters recalling great players and moments and those everyone would rather forget.

England has enjoyed a rebirth of football support following the surprising and uplifting run to the 2018 FIFA World Cup semi-final, followed by qualification for the UEFA Europa League semi-finals and two big wins to start their EURO 2020 qualifying competition – when the final will be at Wembley.

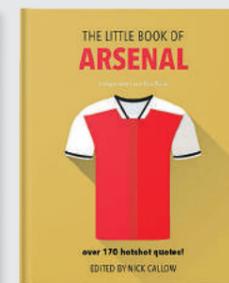

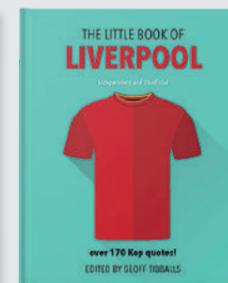

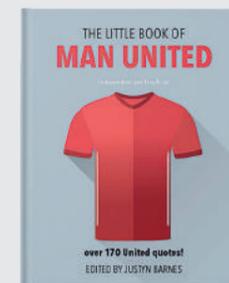

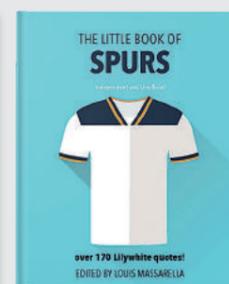

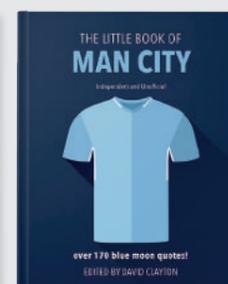

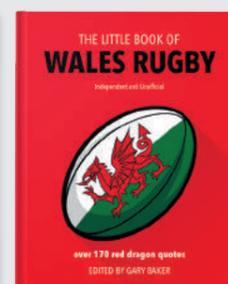

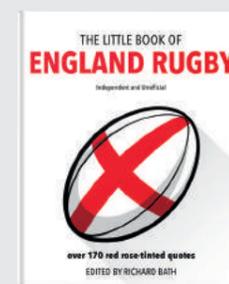

The Little Book of series numbers more than 20 different titles from sport to politics and has sold more than a million copies.

The Little Book of England is the latest volume in this highly successful series of sports-themed quotes books. It is dedicated to all things wide and wonderful about the Three Lions, focusing on the words of wit and wisdom from former players, such as Bobby Moore, Gazza and Gary Lineker, to the key men in today's set-up including manager Gareth Southgate and captain Harry Kane. Ingerlund! Ingerlund! Ingerlund!

Iain Spragg is a highly respected sports journalist who has reported on almost every major sport over the last 20 years. As well as writing for many British national newspapers, he has penned many books on a variety of sporting topics, including, Federer: Portrait of a Tennis Legend, The Random History of Rugby and, in our Ultimate Fan Book series, Cristiano Ronaldo and Gareth Bale.

Since its creation in 1995 by Klaus Teuber, Settlers of Catan and its many expansions have sold nearly 30 million games around the world, 2 millions copies were sold in 2018 alone.

Catan has been produced in more than 40 languages, making it a truly global phenomenon.

Catan Puzzles has been written by an acclaimed and bestselling puzzle creator and illustrated throughout with more than 150 high-quality images.

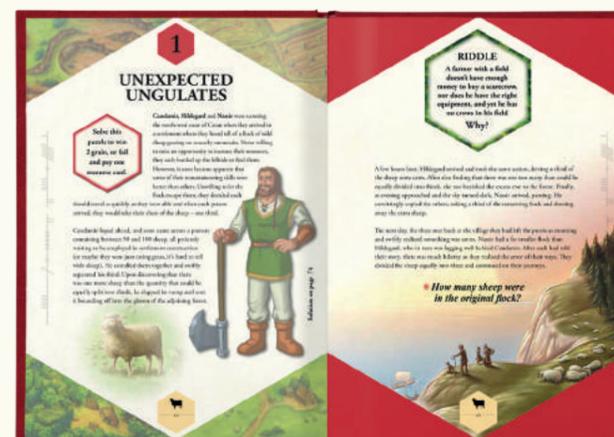

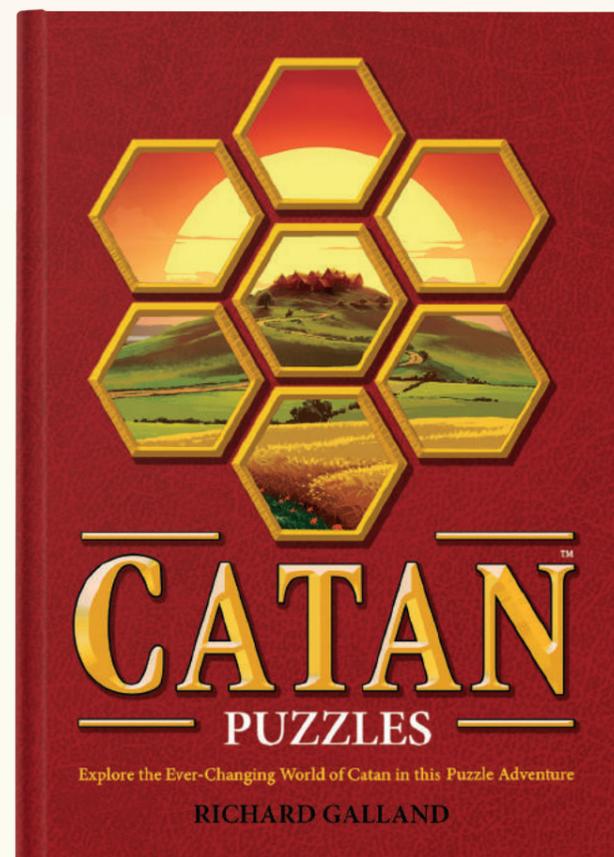

The book contains more than 100 puzzles and riddles of varying difficulty, and each chapter includes a path to "victory" by winning resources and victory points.

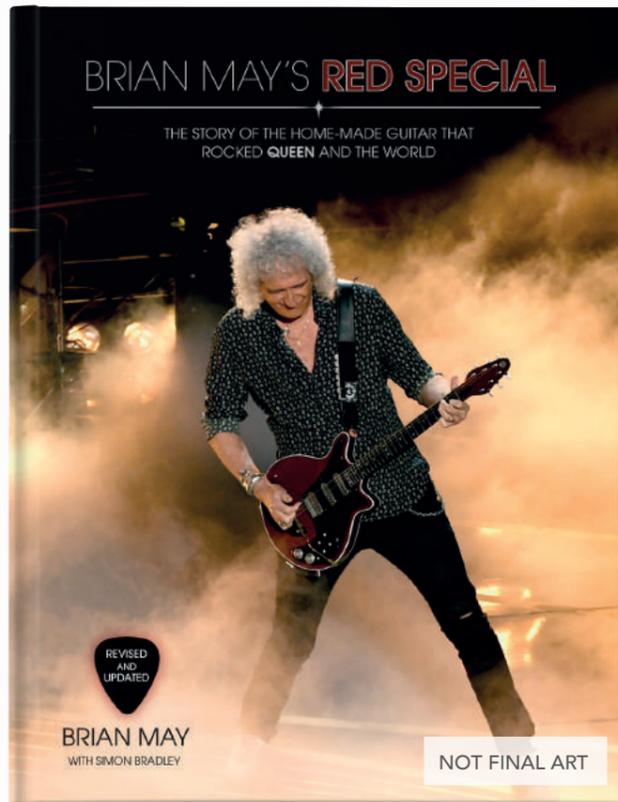

The timeless world of Catan is waiting for you to explore, build settle... and solve! Catan Puzzles is a brand-new book of more than 100 original puzzles based on the wildly popular board game. Catan Puzzles provides a narrative adventure allowing you to discover the mystical island of Catan.

While each puzzle contains its own pleasures, each chapter can be played as a miniature game. You must acquire resources by solving the riddles and conundrums; resources lead to victory points, and 10 victory points lead to success!

This book includes 10 chapters of puzzles, each containing 10 pairs of puzzles set in the Catan world. The puzzles may be solved on their own or as part of a narrative that runs through each chapter. Each pair includes an easy and a difficult puzzle; the easy puzzle must be solved in order to "unlock" the opportunity to solve the more difficult puzzle. Each correctly-answered difficult puzzle awards the reader resources, which can eventually be converted into victory points. Upon earning enough victory points, the reader wins the chapter!

Richard Galland is a writer and games designer. He has worked as a magazine editor for Games Workshop and as a games designer for Hasbro in the UK and Sony Japan. He is currently the creative director of Warm Acre Games, a successful independent publisher of various types of game, and has published a number of puzzle books, including Art of War Strategic Puzzles and Pride & Prejudice & Puzzles. He lives in Lincoln in the UK

BRIAN MAY'S RED SPECIAL

THE STORY OF THE HOME-MADE GUITAR THAT ROCKED QUEEN AND THE WORLD

Welbeck 160pp, HB
978-1-78739-078-2 200 images
14 May 2020 30,000 words
280 x 216 mm £20.00

This book offers a full exploration of every aspect of this extraordinary, hand-built musical instrument played by Brian May in Queen.

Includes rare photographs of the Red Special, Brian and his father, Queen and images from the set of Bohemian Rhapsody.

The guitar was fully dismantled and every piece photographed for the book.

Fully updated with two new chapters: technical updates and the Red Special's – and Brian's – role in the Academy Award-winning Bohemian Rhapsody.

In Brian May's Red Special you will discover everything about Brian May's unique, home-made guitar. Brian reveals all, from the guitar's origins to playing on the roof of Buckingham Palace, from Live Aid to the closing ceremony of the London 2012 Olympics, and from the set of Bohemian Rhapsody to opening the Academy Awards in 2019 where the film scooped four Oscars. All of this is accompanied by original diagrams, sketches and notes from the building of the guitar, as well as a selection of classic photographs including Brian on stage with his guitar, close-ups and even an X-ray. Rare images are included throughout, as the entire guitar was dismantled and photographed for the book.

Brian May, best known as the lead guitarist of the supergroup Queen, completed the PhD in astrophysics that he abandoned when Queen first started to find fame. He continues to tour with Queen + Adam Lambert.

Simon Bradley has been a guitar journalist since 1996, and he has written hundreds of articles and interviews on all aspects of the instrument for many magazines and web sites including Guitarist, Total Guitar, What Guitar?, Classic Rock, Metal Hammer, Future Music, MusicRadar.com, Brianmay.com, and many more.
