THE DUCHESS

LOVE CAN CHANGE THE COURSE OF HISTORY...

Wendy Holden

Export Trade Price £12.99	Paperback
978-1-78739-625-8	400 pages
19 August 2021	110,000 words
234 x 153 mm	Fiction / Historical Fiction

The Duchess is the second instalment of Wendy Holden's bestselling historical fiction series about outsiders in the House of Windsor.

Wallis Simpson was an unknown American woman trapped in a loveless marriage when she met Edward VIII.

One of the most famous love stories of all time, Edward's love for Wallis saw him abdicate as King of England so he could be with her.

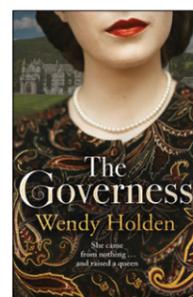

Popular history views Wallis as a ruthless social-climber who destroyed the monarchy; The Duchess portrays a woman caught up in the sweep of history against her will.

1928: A middle-aged foreigner comes to London with no money and no connections. Married to an undistinguished shipping agent, she already has one divorce behind her. Yet a mere few years later, she has captured the heart of the world's most eligible bachelor – a glamorous king who gives up the throne for her.

How does all this happen? Bestselling author Wendy Holden brings to life the amazing unknown story of Wallis Simpson's early years in London and traces the extraordinary, dramatic events behind the romance of the century.

Sunday Times number-one bestseller Wendy Holden was a journalist before becoming an author. She has written ten consecutive top-ten bestselling novels and sold more than 3 million books.

2 September 2021	120,000 words
234 x 153 mm	Fiction / Historical Fiction

Frontline is a major hardback release for Welbeck and will be the subject of a large-scale national marketing and publicity campaign.

Dr Hilary Jones is a widely-trusted and respected medical doctor with a longstanding media career. He is currently the medical advisor on GMTV with Piers Morgan and Susanna Reid.

He is watched by millions of viewers every morning and has delivered a consistently sane and practical perspective on the Covid-19 pandemic.

Frontline will appeal to fans of Jeffrey Archer, Ken Follett and Frederick Forsyth.

The novel is a love story at its heart, but it's also about two people caught up in the tide of history – an epic in the truest sense.

A sweeping medical drama set on the battlefields of Europe as a global influenza pandemic looms...

Frontline is the first instalment in a series charting the rise of a prominent medical family in the 20th Century. From war to a global pandemic, the discovery of penicillin and the birth of the NHS, the Burnetts find themselves at the centre of domestic and international developments in public health.

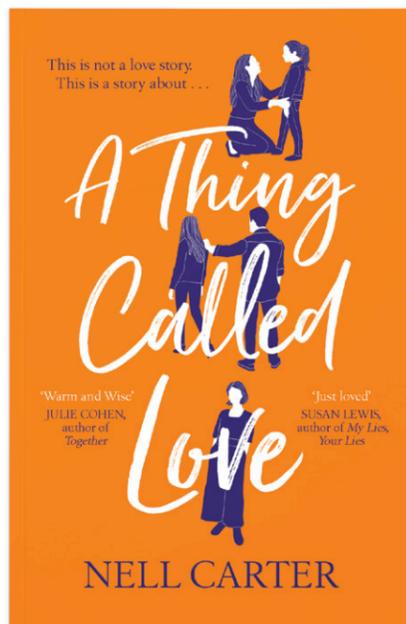

It's 1914 and Europe is at war with itself. Grace is the daughter of the landed gentry, who defies her parents' wishes and volunteers as a nurse on the Western Front. Will is the son of a dockworker and doing his best to keep himself out of trouble, working nights as a hospital porter and trying to get through school. But the lure of patriotism and the thrill of adventure prove irresistible and he enlists while still in his middle teens.

We experience the atrocities of life in the trenches through the eyes of these two characters whose lives collide in a field hospital in France. By then, Will is a stretcher-bearer whose medical talents impress all the doctors. Grace is an ambulance driver whose bravery and compassion is legendary within the army.

But as rumours of an armistice begin to circulate, so does a virus of mysterious origins, carrying with it an unimaginable death toll of soldiers and civilians across the globe.

Doctor Hilary Jones is a General Practitioner and regular contributor to multiple newspapers and television shows. He is a well-known and trusted face to millions in the UK.

978-1-78739-520-6 448 pages
8 July 2021 90,000 words
198 x 129 mm Fiction / Romance

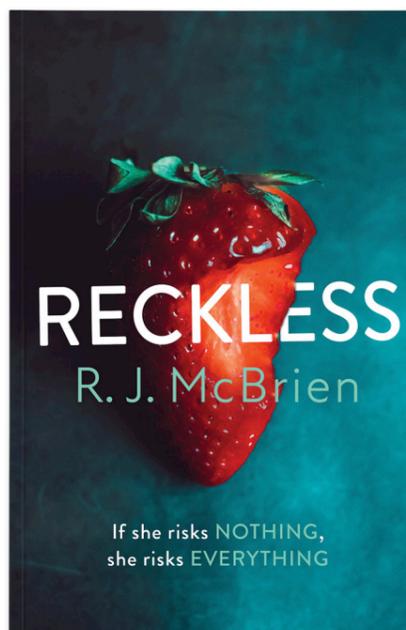

For fans of Rosie Walsh, Beth Morrey and Julie Cohen.

A sweeping story of hope, healing, unlikely friendships and second chances.

A perfect Reading Group read with themes of love, loss and domestic violence that are handled with care and skill.

Life has left Jack and Clare battered and bruised – sometimes emotionally, sometimes literally. Years pass them by, almost unnoticed, until each decides to make a change. But deciding to change isn't something that happens once. It's a choice each has to make again and again, and old patterns lurk around every corner. When they meet, fate offers them a chance to help each other. Can they be brave enough to open their hearts, strong enough to walk away and wise enough to understand a thing called love?

Nell Carter likes to write about the layers of human relationships, peeling them away to see what's really going on beneath.

Kristen Calloway knows she should be grateful for everything she has: a stable marriage, a decent job and a daughter to be proud of. But she is also a middle-aged, middle-class woman with a raging libido. And it won't shut up.

She attends a school reunion and an old friend reveals that she uses an online agency to arrange casual sex. It's not long before Kristen signs up.

Enter Zac: young, handsome and thrilling in bed. Like Kristen, he has no desire to end his marriage, and for a while she seems to have it all. As the affair snowballs, juggling work, family and this new sexual freedom becomes increasingly tricky, but she is reluctant to give it up. Until Zac starts to want more. Rapidly, things start to spiral out of control, with fatal consequences.

Sexually charged, shocking and relatable, Reckless is a profound exploration of marriage, motherhood and sexuality.

RJ McBrien writes for TV (Wallander, Spooks and Trust for ITV) and has sold scripts to major Hollywood studios.

Ben Creed's first novel, City of Ghosts, has been praised by major reviewers and described by James Patterson as 'better than Gorky Park'. In A Traitor's Heart he returns to Stalin's Russia.

Winter, 1952: Leningrad's icy streets are haunted by a murderer: Koshchei the Immortal has returned. Koshchei is an invisible killer who cuts out the tongue of his victims, replacing it with a scroll of paper containing a few lines of what seems to be Italian verse.

Three thousand kilometres away in a labour colony above the Arctic Circle, threatened by the Thieves who rule the camp, former militia lieutenant Revol Rossel is close to death as he watches the arrival of a saviour he hates: Major Nikitin, the man who once cut off his fingers.

Along with skilled aviator Tanya 'Vassya' Vasilievna, the two men must hunt Koshchei down. They soon uncover riddles and a secret code which leads to a weapon of unimaginable power. A weapon coveted by the scheming plotters of Stalin's Kremlin.

What Rossel and Nikitin do not know is that the mystery and the murderer are inextricably linked. And to save themselves they must not only catch Koshchei but also uncover the identity of another ghost - a ghost hiding among the remnants of Hitler's once all-powerful Third Reich.

Max Seeck has been tipped to become the most 'commercially successful Nordic crime writer in English since Jo Nesbo'.

The TV series based on his Jessica Niemi novels is currently in an advanced stage of development in LA.

The first in the series, The Witch Hunter, was a multi-award-winning, instant New York Times bestselling crime novel set in the dark, relentless Helsinki winter.

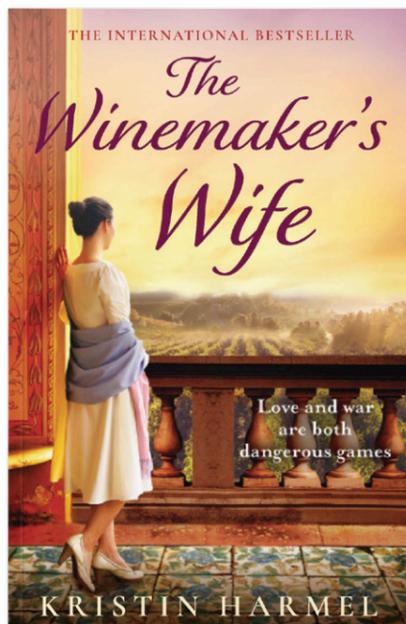

Picking up six months after the brutal final scenes of the first book, The Ice Coven follows Detective Jessica Niemi and her colleagues as they trace the disappearance of two popular social media influencers. When a body washes up on the shores of a lake, dressed in a full Manga costume, Jessica begins to unravel how the crimes might be linked.

Max Seeck is a bestselling Finnish novelist, widely hailed as the leading light of a new generation of Nordic crime writers. He lives in Helsinki.

Kristin Harmel's previous novels have sold hundreds of thousands of copies, been translated into 16 languages and topped bestseller charts worldwide.

France, 1940: Inès has just married Michel, the owner of storied champagne house Maison Chauveau. But, with war on their doorstep, danger and tension mount, and soon Michel turns his back on his marriage and begins secretly working for the Résistance. Inès is terrified they'll be exposed, but for Céline, the half-Jewish wife of Chauveau's chef-de-cave, the risk is even greater, for rumours abound of Jews being shipped east to an unspeakable fate.

In a bid to find some meaning in the ruin, they make a dangerous decision to follow their hearts, and soon risk the lives of those they love and the champagne house that holds them all together.

New York, 2019: Liv Kent has just lost everything when her eccentric French grandmother insists on a trip to France. The older woman has an ulterior motive and a tragic, decades-old story to share. When past and present finally collide, Liv finds herself on a road to salvation that leads straight to the Maison Chauveau.

A detective sergeant is called to investigate the case of Amie Slade, a teenage girl abused by a caretaker at her leafy suburban school. As DS Veronica Delmar digs deeper into the complex case and gets closer to the teenage victim and her family, she begins to discover some uncanny parallels to her own life.

With Amie's family life crumbling and DS Delmar's desperate attempt to juggle work, single motherhood and what remains of her life post-marriage splitting at the seams, it isn't long before the foundations of their lives begin to collapse. Whilst Amie races to protect her dark and shrinking world, DS Delmar must confront her own demons and the part they have to play in the case before her.

Lucy Martin spent ten years as a city lawyer, working in the field of privatisations and joint ventures in Russia and the former Soviet Union. With five languages under her belt, she then set up a language school, which she runs alongside authoring a number of books on language learning and childcare.

The First Confession is her debut novel.

Economics / Political Economy

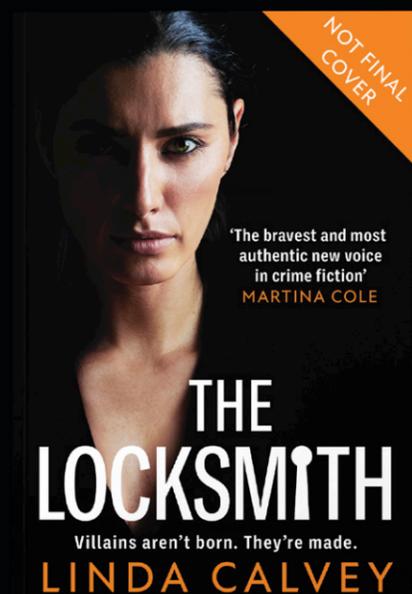

A friendly, anecdotal and engagingly presented guide to economics for anyone who enjoyed Freakonomics, The Undercover Economist and Nudge.

Oxford University-trained economist Tejvan Pettinger covers everything the informed citizen needs to know.

Where does wealth come from? How is it different from money? Does division of labour mean that the best people are hired to do the job? Does government intervention prevent or create crises? What is the most effective way to protect the environment?

Economics without the Boring Bits is a clear, comprehensive and richly anecdotal guide to debt, finance, trade, money, taxation, supply, demand and all the other big issues that worry us all yet relatively few truly understand.

Tejvan Pettinger lives and works as a teacher in Oxford, where he studied PPE at Lady Margaret Hall, University of Oxford. He is a contributor to the Economic Review and writes regularly on economics. He is also the editor of www.economicshelp.org.

THE SIX-DAY BATTLE THAT BEGAN TWO DECADES OF WAR IN AFGHANISTAN

The author's previous book, Dead Men Risen, was a Sunday Times Bestseller and won the Orwell Prize. This promises to have the same mixture of commercial appeal and political insight.

Dead Men Risen has sold over 30,000 copies (TCM). This is Toby's first book since then and he has exclusive access to the people involved.

The Battle of Qala-i-Jangi was one of the bloodiest conflicts in the US's 'War on Terror' and this will be the first book to tell the incredible story.

Released to coincide with the 20th Anniversary of 9/11, as well as being a gripping read, Toby's book will examine the cost of the war that would follow the attacks.

Bestselling and Orwell Prize-winning author Toby Harnden tells the gripping and incredible story of the six-day battle that began the War in Afghanistan and how it set the scene for twenty years of conflict.

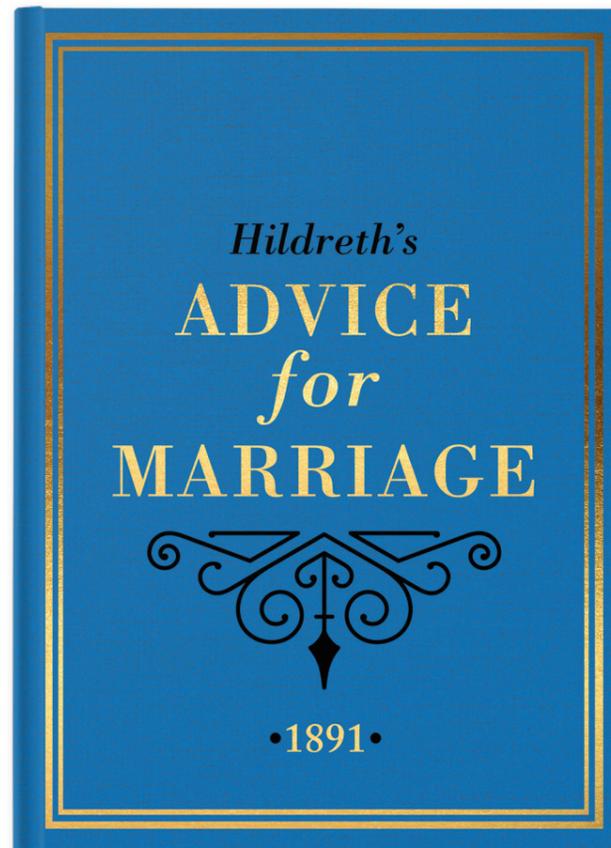

On the 11 September 2011, the World Trade Center in New York was attacked. In the aftermath, the US declared its 'War on Terror' and within two months had sent troops to Afghanistan, which was suspected of harbouring al-Qaeda operatives.

In late November, coalition forces were stationed in the ancient fort of Qala-i-Jangi, assisting the CIA in interrogations of al-Qaeda suspects, when hundreds of men from the surrounding areas surrendered to the soldiers. The soldiers had respected local customs of respect by not searching them, but what they did not know was that the prisoners were armed and determined to send a message to the invading forces.

What ensued was six-days of fighting that would prove to be one of the bloodiest of the war, a ferocious fight for survival in a dusty outpost facing a fearless enemy, and a death that would never be forgotten.

In the first-ever account of a battle that came to define the occupation in Afghanistan, war reporter Toby Harnden tells the gripping story of what happened in those fateful days and explains how it would lead to two decades of war and the terrorism-plagued world we have today.

Toby Harnden has been a journalist for 25 years, after previously spending a decade in the Royal Navy. He is currently the Managing Editor of the Washington Examiner, and before that was the Washington Bureau Chief of the Sunday Times. He has already written two critically acclaimed and bestselling books, including Dead Men Risen, which won the 2012 Orwell Prize.

HILDRETH'S ADVICE FOR MARRIAGE

Old-fashioned relationship advice sells incredibly well, from the Ladybird for Grown-Ups books (The Husband: 553k TCM / The Wife: 485k) to Don'ts for Husbands (354k) and Don'ts for Wives (326k), as well as Marriage: Haynes Explains (49k).

Published in a small-format hardback, this is the perfect stocking filler for Christmas 2021, little gift for Valentine's Day or any other special occasion.

For fans of Victoria nostalgia, and shows like Bridgerton, Pride and Prejudice, Victoria and Poldark.

Originally published in 1891, this hilarious (and informative) collection is a treasure trove of essential advice any man or woman, or couple, would be foolish to ignore.

From advice about how to find the perfect partner...

- Don't marry a villain.
- Don't marry a duke, or anyone who travels on his title.
- If money is your object, the older and uglier he is, the better.
- Avoid slovenly dressed girls or heedless men.

...to advice about how to wed...

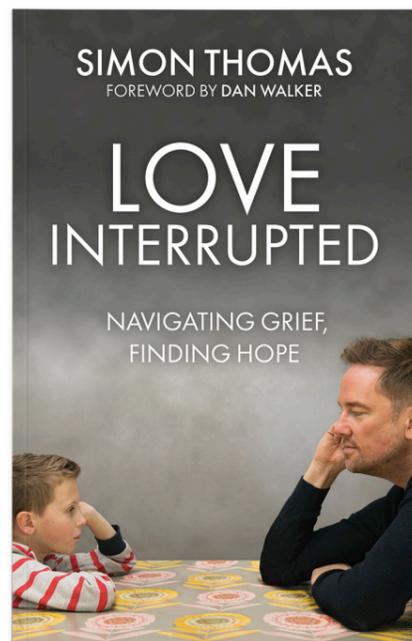

- Don't propose on a wash-day, in the rain, at breakfast or in a tunnel.
- Marry at home or at church, in good form, without display.

...as well as general words of wisdom...

- Don't expect too much from your marriage.
- Don't cross your husband.

...Hildreth's Advice for Marriage is a delightful collection that is as relevant today as it was 100 years ago.

Hildreth was the pen name of James W. Donovan, a writer in Victorian-era England. This book was originally published in 1891 by dime novel publishing house J. S. Ogilvie.

McCartney has sold more than 100m albums and 100m singles around the world.

He is the UK's most successful albums act of all time with 22 number-one albums (including with Wings and the Beatles).

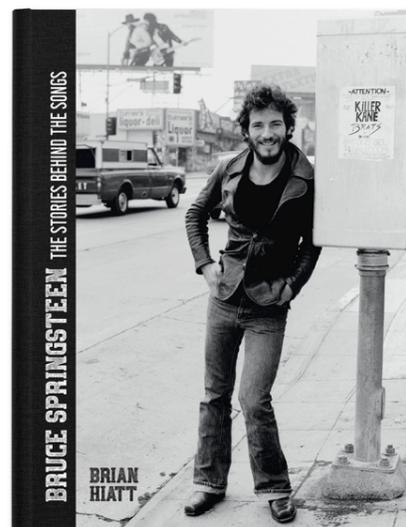

Paul McCartney's songwriting output as a member of the Beatles, mainly with his co-writer John Lennon, has been exhaustively documented over the years. Now, taking 50 key songs from his five-decade career since the break-up of the Fab Four, Paul McCartney: The Stories Behind 50 Classic Songs takes an in-depth look at the post-sixties work of one of popular music's most versatile and prolific composers and performers.

A musician on the sixties rock scene, Mike Evans began writing about popular music in the 1970s as a broadcaster in local radio and freelance writer, his work appearing in a variety of publications including Sounds, Cream, the Guardian, Elle and as a regular contributor to the UK's top music weekly newspaper Melody Maker. Since the late 1980s, he has worked in book publishing (from 1989 to 2000 with Hamlyn/Octopus), commissioning and editing titles on rock'n'roll, jazz and popular culture.

Bruce Springsteen is popular around the world: his last two albums both went to #1 in the USA, UK, Ireland, Austria, Norway and Sweden.

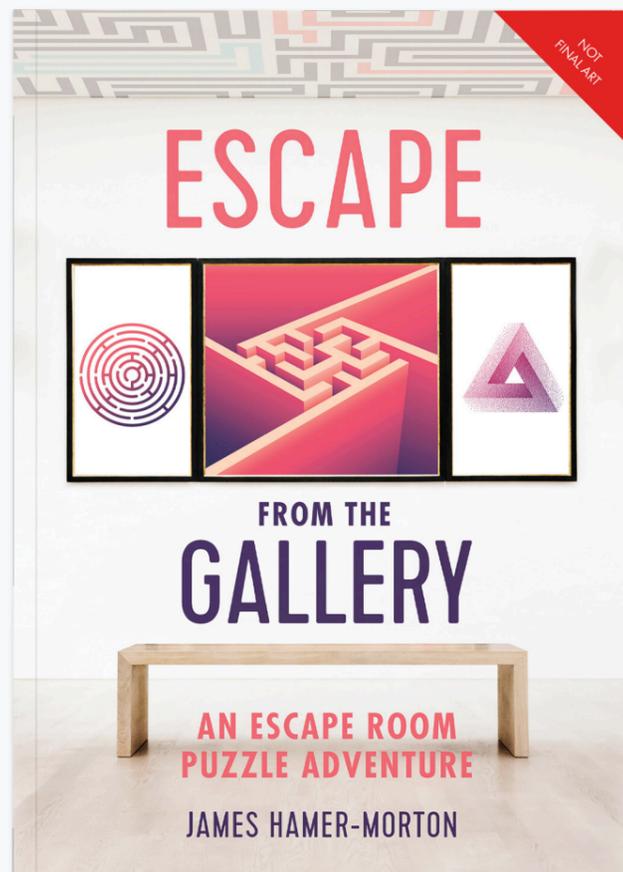

Revised and updated, this edition includes 2019's Western Stars and 2020's Letter to You.

Bruce Springsteen: The Stories Behind the Songs looks at every song that Springsteen performed on his albums, from 1973's Greetings From Asbury Park N.J. to 2020's Letter to You. Each album is discussed and each song examined in terms of lyrical meaning, placing in historical context where necessary or relevant.

This book is the first to examine Springsteen's complete studio-recorded output, and offers a unique insight into one of the greatest rock 'n' roll songwriters that the world has ever seen.

Brian Hiatt is a Senior Writer for Rolling Stone magazine. He has written 54 Rolling Stone cover stories and has interviewed Bruce Springsteen five times, including for the artist's most recent Rolling Stone cover story.

ESCAPE FROM THE GALLERY

 30 September 2021 30,000 words
 210 x 150 mm Puzzles & Quizzes

An immersive, original and creative escape-room puzzle experience.

This is the third in Welbeck's escape-room series of titles. It can be played as a standalone for any who don't have the previous books, but it is a direct sequel to the enormously successful Escape Room Puzzles.

Dozens of famous historical artworks have been reproduced to create a visual feast to be enjoyed while puzzling.

Can be enjoyed playing on your own or as a group.

This is the perfect book for fans of Journal 29, and those who want to re-create an exciting escape-room experience in their own home!

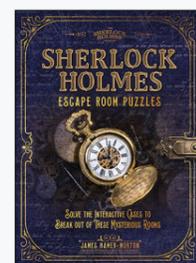

You are Adam Parkinson, an intrepid journalist who has recently been employed by the time-travelling Wexell Corporation. Adam is invited to an unusual art gallery, filled with objects and artworks donated by a mysterious figure. It will be up to you to help him unravel the mysteries of the gallery, and you will travel from Ancient Egypt to Victorian England – and beyond – to do it. And, quite possibly, to save the world!

Escape from the Gallery is an immersive escape-room experience that provides a visual feast as well as a tricky puzzle adventure. Featuring artworks ranging from Ancient Egyptian hieroglyphs to modern masterpieces, you will need to solve visual riddles and discover the hidden secrets that lie within the artworks if you want to figure out what is going on, and why this might be the most important visit to a gallery you have ever made.

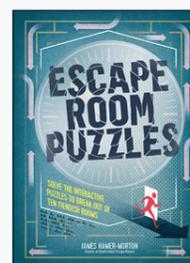

James Hamer-Morton is the co-founder of Deadlocked Rooms and has created a number of physical escape rooms in the United Kingdom. He is the author of Escape Room Puzzles and Sherlock Holmes Escape Room Puzzles.

Social & Cultural History

Non-fiction books by, for and about women still dominate the publishing landscape, with key recent titles including Women Don't Owe Your Pretty, More Than a Woman, The Five and Invisible Women.

While collections of letters have been wildly successful, none previously have focused on letters of influential women. Letters of Note written by Shaun Usher has sold nearly 100k copies.

Offers window into private worlds of some of the most extraordinary women in history, from around the world and all walks of life.

Letters of Great Women is a collection of the most inspiring, illuminating, poignant and compelling correspondence from remarkable women through history. Including 50 letters from figures in the arts, politics, entertainment, activism and the military, as well as ordinary yet remarkable women, historian Lucinda Hawksley has carefully selected diverse, extraordinary dispatches from women across all walks of life, from all around the world.

Composed of biographical synopses, archival images and the transcribed letters themselves, Letters of Great Women opens a portal to some of the most significant moments and burning issues in global history, as well as the everyday joys, sorrows and struggles of women's lives.

Lucinda Hawksley is an author, art historian, public speaker and broadcaster. An authority on literature, social history and women's history, Lucinda has published over 20 books, including Lizzie Siddal: The Tragedy of a Pre-Raphaelite Supermodel and March Women March. She is the great-great-granddaughter of Charles Dickens, and is a patron of the Charles Dickens Museum.

Follow a herd of elephants across the savanna as they trek to water, guided by the matriarch's memories of more verdant times gone by.

Told in gentle rhyming verse, this is a follow-up to What Did the Tree See? also by Charlotte Guillain and Sam Usher.

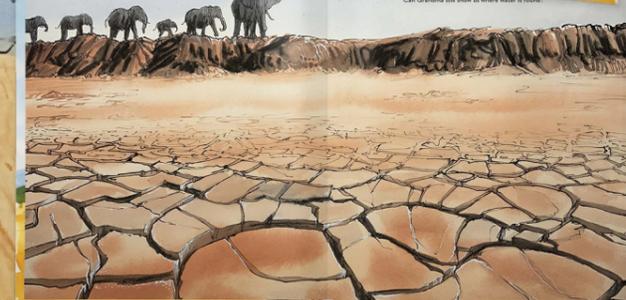

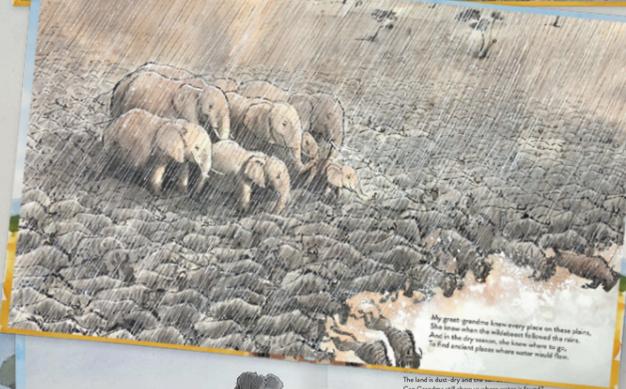

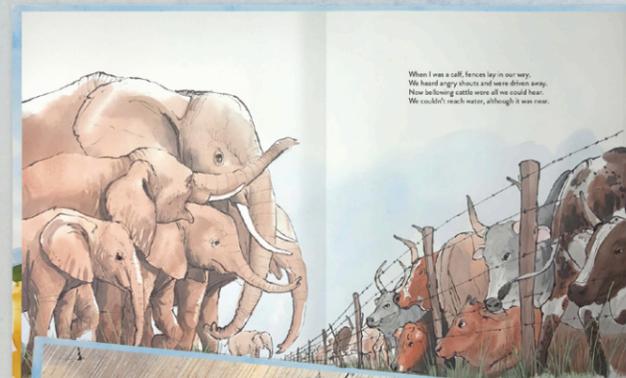

Includes extra non-fiction content on African elephants, their migrations, the challenges of climate change, habitat loss and poaching, and what we can do to help.

*"Here on the savanna, I live with my herd.
I'll tell you our history – hear every word.
My grandmother has so much knowledge to share.
She leads us to water, she somehow knows where."*

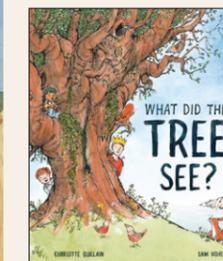

Told in gentle rhyming verse, this beautiful non-fiction picture book follows the story of a herd of African elephants as they journey across the parched savanna in search for a waterhole. The matriarch tells of all the sounds of the savanna, and how the landscape has changed over the years. Still, she remembers where to find water, just as her mother did before her.

Charlotte Guillain writes fiction and non-fiction for children, including the George's Amazing Adventures series, illustrated by award-winning illustrator Lee Wildish and featured on CBeebies Bedtime Stories. Her non-fiction picture book The Street Beneath My Feet was shortlisted for the UKLA Book Awards and selected by the Guardian as one of 15 'modern classics'.

Sam Usher has been shortlisted for the Waterstones Prize and the Red House Children's Book Award and longlisted for the Kate Greenaway medal. He is particularly admired for his technical drawing skill and prowess with watercolour.

A thought-provoking exploration of the many processes of change within the natural world.

A holistic approach, covering geology, biology, ecology, and more, with captivating illustrations that show a moment of change, such as a sunny sky becoming stormy.

Explores the philosophical and emotional aspects of change, how we can accept it, embrace it and derive meaning from it.

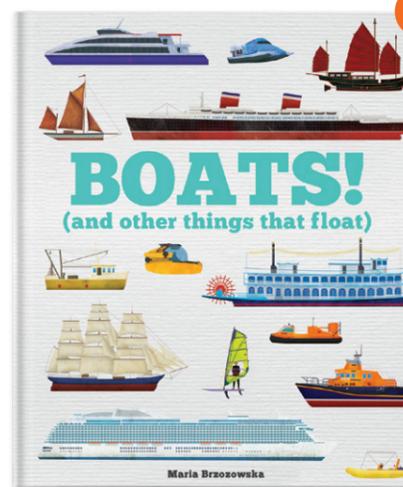

Everything changes: from the birth of new stars to the endlessly shifting tides and tiniest life cycle. Some change happens right before your eyes, while other transformations happen so slowly that you won't notice them in your lifetime. And you change, too, just like everything else in Nature – growing, learning and changing your thoughts and feelings.

All Things Change is a lyrical and beautifully illustrated book looking at the many different processes of change in the natural world, covering geology, ecology, biology and more. It also embraces the philosophical topic of change: How do we approach changes that make us feel sad? How do we cope with changes we can't control?

Ideal for children to explore independently or with parents, it holds a special appeal for anyone struggling to find stability in a rapidly changing world.

Anna Claybourne is the author of numerous books on the natural world for young readers, including the Usborne Internet-Linked Encyclopedia of Planet Earth, the Survival Skills Handbook and many more. She is the winner of several awards, including the ASE Book of the Year Award, and the Times Educational Supplement Senior Information Book Award for her title The World of Shakespeare, as well as being shortlisted for many other awards, including the Blue Peter Book Award, the Royal Society Young People's Book Prize, the English Association 4–11 awards 2017.

Sarah Edmonds is a freelance illustrator on projects with publishers, museums, national parks and charities. Alongside this, her collection of playful illustrated gifts has grown and is sold online and in gift shops.

History

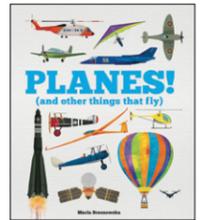

Part of an illustrated history series focusing on the different people and their roles within that civilization

Written by David Long, highly acclaimed non-fiction author, winner of the Blue Peter Book Award 2017 for Survivors (Faber & Faber).

Step back in time to Ancient Egypt and meet some of the many people who lived, worked, and played during that time. From a necropolis builder to a tomb robber, a brewer to an embalmer, and a slave girl to the Pharaoh himself – each one will share with you the story of their own daily life. Together, they are the Ancient Egyptians. Featuring 19 different characters from Ancient Egyptian times, as well as an introduction to the Ancient Egyptian world, a key to decoding hieroglyphics and a timeline of key events, this book provides a new angle on a classic subject, bringing the Ancient World to life.

A wonderful retelling of the classic fairytale that combines all the most popular and fantastical elements of the original story and the ballet adaptation.

Beautiful, contemporary illustrations by Margarida Esteves are presented in an exciting die-cut format, to make this a lavish, quality gift product.

Each chapter includes press-out characters that can be used to populate the scenic diorama at the back of the book, making for a more absorbing experience.

The story is divided into chapters – each once introduces the reader to a different magical setting. Children and parents will enjoy reading the story while poring over the sumptuous illustrations throughout.

The Nutcracker is a Christmas tale filled with magical realms and memorable characters, including the Mouse King, dancing snowflakes, waltzing flowers, the Sugar Plum Fairy and, of course, the Nutcracker prince. This retelling of a classic story combines beautifully crafted paperscape scenes with an easy-to-follow and captivating narrative. The book presents the fairytale settings in a series of intricately crafted die-cut pages, forming layered scenes that make each realm unique and picturesque. In addition, children can collect pressout characters along the way and display them in a beautiful diorama and, in so doing, enjoy the classic tale in a uniquely interactive and charming way.

Margarida Esteves is an illustrator, living and working in London. Her work is colourful, layered, textured and detailed. She gets easily inspired by people, films, photography, vintage illustration and history. When she's not working or drawing in her sketchbook, she enjoys developing small personal projects that usually involve printmaking, embroidery, Lego and miniature models.

Delightfully Gothic artwork, complemented by photographs of key artefacts, brings this history of world medicine to life.

Covers topics from the early understanding of anatomy to medical practices such as trepanning, leech therapy, amputations, and looks at how medicine has developed across the centuries.

Includes surprising and little-known stories, such as how doctors in the 1500s used maggots to clean up wounds and how some early plastic surgeons injected patients with paraffin wax!

This book explores the fascinating – and often macabre – ideas and practices employed during humanity's constant battle against illness and injury. Discover the pills and potions that often did more harm than good, the bizarre treatments and torturous surgeries. As well as finding strange and little-known stories, readers will also develop a deeper understanding of the pioneers and pivotal discoveries that paved the way for the modern medicine we often take for granted today.

Classic Fiction

New editions of two beloved classics, with full-colour artwork by Han Christian Anderson Award-winning illustrator, Robert Ingpen.

Young and impulsive, Robinson Crusoe defies the advice of his parents and runs away to sea. He is plagued by misfortune at every turn; his first ship sinks in a violent storm, his friend and mentor dies, then he is captured by Turkish pirates and made a slave in the Moorish port of Saltee. Through all these hardships, Crusoe's determination and resourcefulness fills him with hope for a better life, and fate delivers him the opportunity for freedom, friendship and riches. But it is when he is shipwrecked on a deserted island that he faces his greatest test: not simply to survive but to thrive. The island is filled with beauty and riches of its own kind and here Crusoe is king, but it is blighted by a terrible danger – a hidden horror – that threatens not only Crusoe's encampment but his very life.

These adventures, so thrillingly imagined by Defoe, were first published in 1719 and Robinson Crusoe has continued to delight and enthral readers of all ages for three hundred years.

Classic Fiction

Three hundred years ago, a great deal of the world as we now know it was still undiscovered. A voyage was not a pleasant thing, and a traveller was likely to encounter mysterious islands and strange people. Danger lurked around every corner, and friends and foes are to be found unexpectedly, and in equal measure.

When Lemuel Gulliver, a ship's surgeon, sets off on the high seas in search of adventure, things never seem to go quite according to plan. Through a series of disasters and misadventures, he finds himself cast upon strange islands whose inhabitants are of the most unusual size, and the most confusing philosophies. Yet Gulliver always seems to make it back to his home country, where he recovers from one adventure shortly before setting sail once more and ending up in another one.

Gulliver's Travels has been loved by many generations of readers for almost three hundred years, and the telling of the misfortunes and pleasures of its eponymous hero is one of Jonathan Swift's most enduring legacies.

General Fiction

Launch title for new fiction imprint, Welbeck Flame.

First in a gripping new duology set around the Berlin Wall.

Perfect for readers of CHERUB and Alex Rider.

Berlin, 1967.

Three weeks after moving to West Berlin for his diplomat father's work, American Harry Rogers witnesses the shooting of a boy trying to escape into the West over the Wall.

In East Berlin, Jakob is the adopted son of a high-up Stasi officer, Hans Eberhardt.

When Harry floats a helium-filled balloon with a message attached, Jakob chances upon it and sees an opportunity. The boys begin a correspondence. On the surface, their letters appear to be those of two normal penfriends, but beneath these they use lemon juice as invisible ink to share messages that would not make it past the authorities. They soon realise that a hidden tunnel is their only way out as Harry and Jakob race time and test their wits against the watchful eyes of the Stasi.
